

Field Service Technician Posted: July 8, 2014

Position Summary

To install, troubleshoot, repair, and upgrade lubrication systems in heavy machinery and industrial applications.

REQUIRED

MUST have a mechanical aptitude and working knowledge of the use of simple hand tools and power tools

1 – 2 years' experience in a mechanical, electrical or plumbing role, WILL TRAIN

Be able to read electrical and mechanical drawings

Effective mathematic skills to perform measurements and calculations

Preference given to those that have experience with electronic circuitry and/or welding

Must possess a valid Ontario driver's license and satisfactory driving record as determined by the Company

DESIRED CHARACTERISTICS

Assertive, able to cope with pressure, team player, prepared to travel, sometimes on short notice

Ability to establish priorities, handle and resolve recurring issues and to troubleshoot new problems while working independently without supervision

Ability to interact and deal effectively with customers using excellent interpersonal communication skills

Responsible for personal quality of workmanship and taking all necessary precautions to prevent service disruptions.

Providing appropriate input in writing, updating and correcting various system documentation

WORK ENVIRONMENT

Must wear all necessary PPE provided as job function dictates

Will work in all weather conditions, day, night, or weekends with possible overnight stays

Be physically fit and capable of heavy lifting, climbing ladders and working in confined spaces

Responsibility for the tidiness, cleanliness and operation maintenance of company vehicles

How to Apply

Your resume/cv can be emailed, in PDF format, to careers@appliedlubrication.com, or you can submit your resume/cv online at appliedlubrication.com/careers.

Contact

All potential applicants will be contacted by Applied Lubrication Technology. Please do not contact our offices regarding the status of your application. If not selected, we encourage you to maintain your interest by submitting your resume (via the website) for our general consideration.

Thank you for your interest in a career at ALT.